Pancontinental Oil & Gas in pre open ahead of capital raising announcement
 Tuesday, April 17, 2012 by Bevis Yeo

Pancontinental Oil & Gas (ASX: PCL) requested a trading halt as it prepares to release an announcement relating to a capital raising.

While the company is free carried through drilling of the Mbawa Prospect in L8 offshore Kenya, the company also has interests in 3 other Kenyan permits, a Namibian offshore permit and exploration licences in the Canning and Carnarvon basins.

Pancontinental had said previously that the L6 joint venture in Kenya was planning to shoot 3D seismic on the permit while it is gathering further data for mapping and additional studies on EL 0037 in Namibia.

The company is also participating in the restoration of oil production from the West Kora-1 well in the Canning Basin.

The halt will last until the earlier of an announcement being made available to the market, or the opening of trade on Thursday 19 April.
